The Little House in the Big Woods

Once upon a time, a girl called Laura lived in a little grey log cabin in the Big Woods of Wisconsin. There weren't other houses or roads and there weren't any people. There were only trees and wild animals. Wolves, bears and wild cats lived in the Big Woods.

The house wasn't very big, but it was a comfortable house. Upstairs there was an attic and downstairs there was a small bedroom and a big room. In the big room there were two windows and two doors, a front door and a back door. There was a cooker, a cupboard with plates in it, and a big table.

One winter evening, when it was cold and there was snow outside, the family were warm and comfortable in their little house. Laura, her father and her sister Mary were in front of the fire. Her mother was in her rocking chair next to baby Carrie. The cat and the dog were asleep in front of the fire. Laura was very happy. She loved her father's stories.
